

APCO Technologies is specialised in the design and manufacture of high quality mechanical and electromechanical equipment. APCO Technologies provides innovative and competitive solutions to client's specific requirements.

To develop and complete our technical assistance service in UK, we are recruiting a:

MAINTENANCE TECHNICIAN (M/F)

Activity :

Industry, heavy machinery, automation.

Technical assistance, operation, maintenance and troubleshooting.

Mission :

- You and your colleagues will support our client with electrical erection and commissioning of his APCO designed and manufactured machines.
- You will maintain regular contact with technical support team located at the head office to receive support and provide updates.

Your profile :

- You have an HND mechanical and electrical or maintenance degree with at least 5 years' experience in machinery industry.
- You have mastered the ability to read technical drawings (mechanical and electrical).
- You have a similar experience working abroad.
- You are available for working on our client's sites during long periods.
- You are quick-witted and know how to adapt quickly to any situation.
- You are fluent in English, written and spoken.
- You have a clean criminal record.

We offer:

- Competitive compensation package.
- The international environment of a strong growing middle-sized multinational company.
- The stability and pleasant work atmosphere of a privately owned business.

Entry date: immediately or to be agreed.

We are waiting for your complete application electronically only (resume, cover letter, work certificate and diploma), at the following e-mail address:

emplois@apco-technologies.eu

Activity :

For APCO Technologies SA in :

Barrow-in-Furness, UK

<https://www.apco-technologies.eu/open-vacancies/>